

John,

I may be obnoxious as hell to you, but deep down I really like you. I like your goals, and admire your willingness to achieve what you want. You're one of the nicest guys I know. Don't get me wrong just because I cut people down. I do it to everyone. Sometime will have to get together for a concert or something. Keep on working for what you ~~[illegible]~~ is right. You'll make something out of yourself. Will this in mind. Thanks for being yourself.

See ya,

Chris Fuller

John, what's it goin'?
Hanks it good. Happy
Pretty good around here
Quiet. Ready to graduate but

John, Our friendship is like the cover of this yearbook, far-out! I really dig you man! You have some really outasight things inside of you that set me off when they come to the surface. Well probably be in touch forever and ever. See you on our Tours, we need someone with a clear head to keep us out of playing Kish and to keep us out of Jail,

Bob

My Hero

Doug, (John)
It was swell knowing you through the past years especially as a manager of the baseball team and I hope you get a better job in baseball next time you go out for it.

As we walk along this path called life

We often stop to wonder

And in uncertainty we ask ourselves

What's ahead for me? Will I be happy?

Or will I suffer in sadness?

Only the future knows

What will be will be

So be and become.

Hey John how's it feel to be out of school. wish I could stay in sometimes we had a good time in are gaan fight didn't we

Very rarely do we come to know

How precious life really is.

But contemplate for just a moment

And you shall eventually see

That living life to the very fullest

Is what existance was meant to be.

So be and become

And life will be yours.

TACO BELL

There are occasions when a smile cracks
And a feeling of happiness radiates.
Oh, only if that moment could be kept
And brought out when feeling is low.
But Father Time marches on
For he is impatient and waits for no one.
But be and become
And happiness shall come again.

John -
It seems like there are so many insincere + shallow people - it's nice to know you because you aren't like them. I have enjoyed knowing you + am glad for your friendship. Take care - I'm sure will be in touch, but if not - I'll see you at the ten year reunion with your wife and kids! (Ha)

We often sit ~~back and wonder~~
Why life is like it is.
Why do good times go by quickly
And difficult times linger on ?
No one really knows the answer
But why wonder at all ?
For life is for enjoyment
So live to be and become.

John –

I really haven't known you all that long, but I think you're a real great person. Sociology was one of the strangest classes I've had, but it was also the best! I really appreciate the help you and your parents have given me in getting my appointment to Annapolis, and hope to see you later sometime in the future –

Have a great summer and lots of luck

Have Fun,

We find ourselves at center stage.
Lights glaring, eyes staring.
This is the moment of truth.
Whether we succeed or fail.
It really doesn't matter:
For do your best to be and become
And satisfaction will come your way.

John,
I so glad
I got to

It's in meeting people and making friends
That we eventually come to know
That we are a part of everything
And all things are a part of us.
At Westwood there was togetherness
And for a time we were all one
We were all Warriors
All striving to be and become.

John,
You a really glad

Sophies Experience Fun During Hello Dance and Assembly

Curiosity, excitement, tension, and happiness were just a few emotions that sophomores experienced the night of the Sophomore Hello Dance. Things began a little slow, but once people got moving the dance turned out great. Comical awards were given by student council members to the most magnetic couple, the best dressed guy and gal, and the funniest one of all was the prize given to the girl who made the most trips to the drinking fountain!

Instead of a sophie orientation, student council decided to have an all school opening assembly for all to enjoy . . . and all did enjoy. A take-off of "This is Your Life" was staged as Jack Rabbit and Wes Warrior met once again to show their forever-lasting friendship.

Warriors Flock to Football Games

Lights . . balloons . . screams . . . That was the setting every Friday night on the autumn calender as the Westwood Warrior football team trampled on to the green turf. But the fans were treated to much more than a grid battle.

Adding their touch of spirit to the game atmosphere were the pretty cheerleaders. Their cheers stimulated the crowd into loud clapping, yelling and footstomping tantrums. Everyone went wild.

The eighteen dazzling Warriorettes delighted spectators with eye-catching dances and pom waving. The music was provided by Drum Major Dick Mayne and the Warrior Marching Band. Their half-time entertainment got fans into the beat of things.

Popcorn . . music . . thrilling grid action . . beautiful cheerleaders . . . . that's what made Westwood football come alive.

Curtain Time Puts Talent Onto Stage

Lights, camera, action: That's exactly what Curtain Time '73 was, for talent was abundant. The assembly audiences were treated to a variety of songs by Debbie Belknap, Norene Ray, and Aletha Johnson. The lighter side of the show brought the bubbly "File and Bottle Jug Band" and "The Old Soft Shoe" routine of Jim Wright, Dave Gardner, and Michael Jones. Then there was a '50's dance skit from the bouncy Andrew Sisters and a modern dance from Jennifer Jones and Sadie Butler. The Honor Choir topped the show off with the beautiful song "Morning has Broken."

Mesa-Westwood Week 1973 was no ordinary week, for the spirit of Westwood Warriors was evident for five full days. Monday, the 24th of September started the events off with "Lick 'em Up" day. Students were given suckers to lick up some enthusiasm. Tuesday was "Stomp 'em" day, with many students wearing their combat boots. Wednesday was "Chew 'em Up" day and Warriors were treated to bubble gum. Thursday was known as "Mash 'em Up" day, and M&M's were mashed in honor of Mesa. Friday, the 28th of September was the day everyone had waited for. A funeral was held for the poor Mesa Jackrabbit at lunch time. The week was topped off by a 54-21 victory over our cross-town rivals.

Posters, Lawn Projects, and Speeches Make Sophie Elections Interesting

Posters and lawn projects covered the walls and the ground both inside the buildings and outside. The gay jingles, rhymes, funny drawings and colorful designs not only caught everyone's eye and brought smiles to many faces, but stuck in everyone's mind until election time for the Sophomore offices.

Talking to a basketball . . . swinging some beads . . . having a shoot out . . . or even getting tough with karate were some of the Sophie candidates' ideas to help them along with their speeches during the election assembly. Clever was the word, for the winners had tough competition from others.

Jim Wright won the title of sophomore class president with Tony Flores as sophie vice-president to help him out. Vickie Tobey won the title of sophomore secretary. Michelle Harris and Julie Crum both received the jobs of publicity director. Tammy Richardson got in the swing of things as special services director. Celeste Cummins, Sandy Hernandez, Jana Nugent, and Susan Malone were elected as the spirit raisers for the underclassmen.

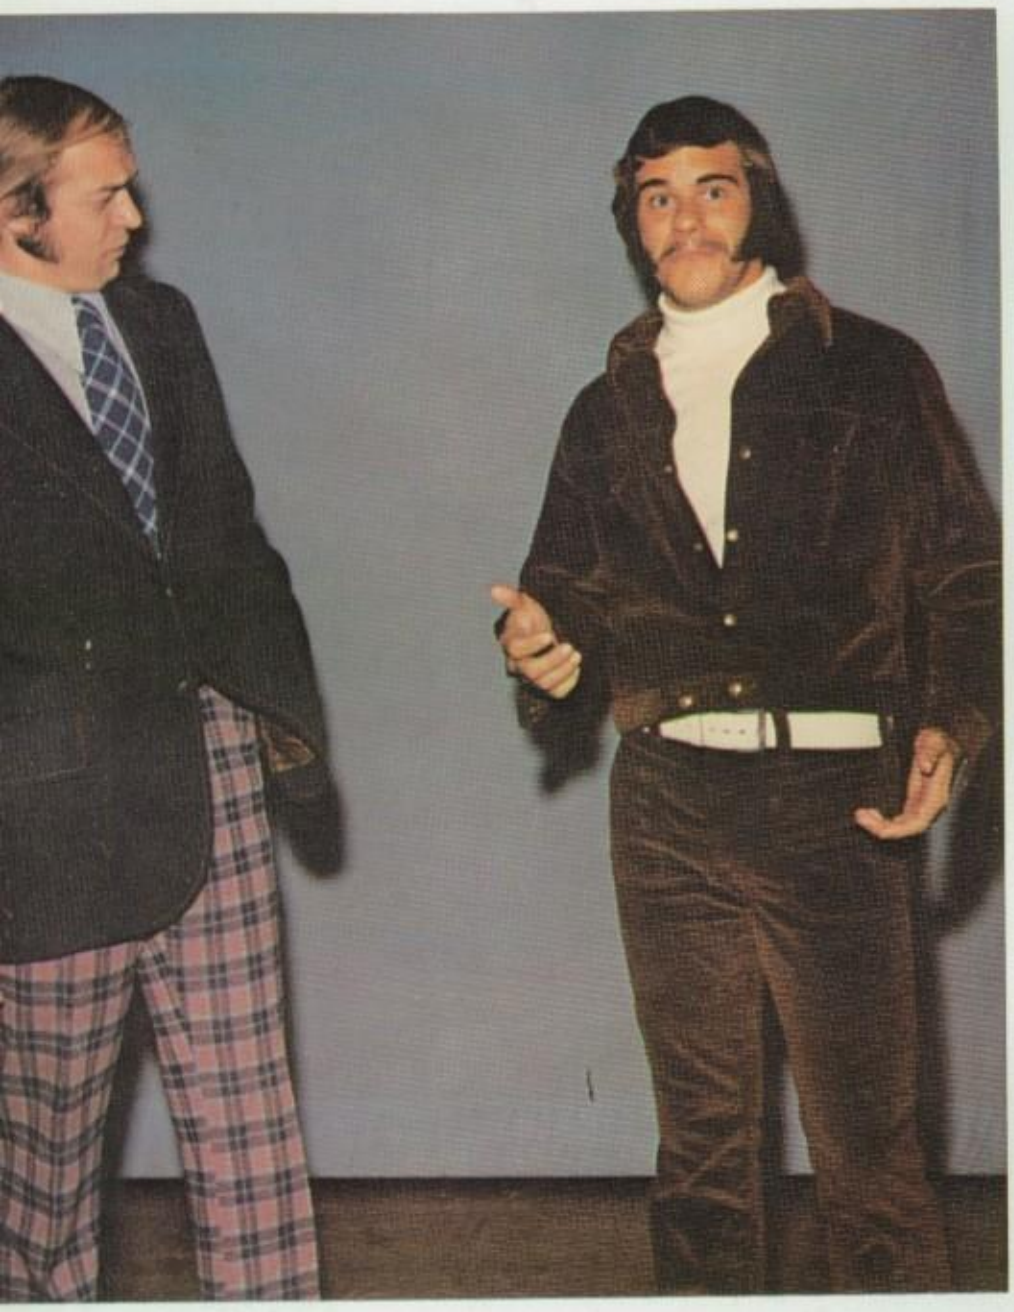
Kim and John Capture Homecoming Honors

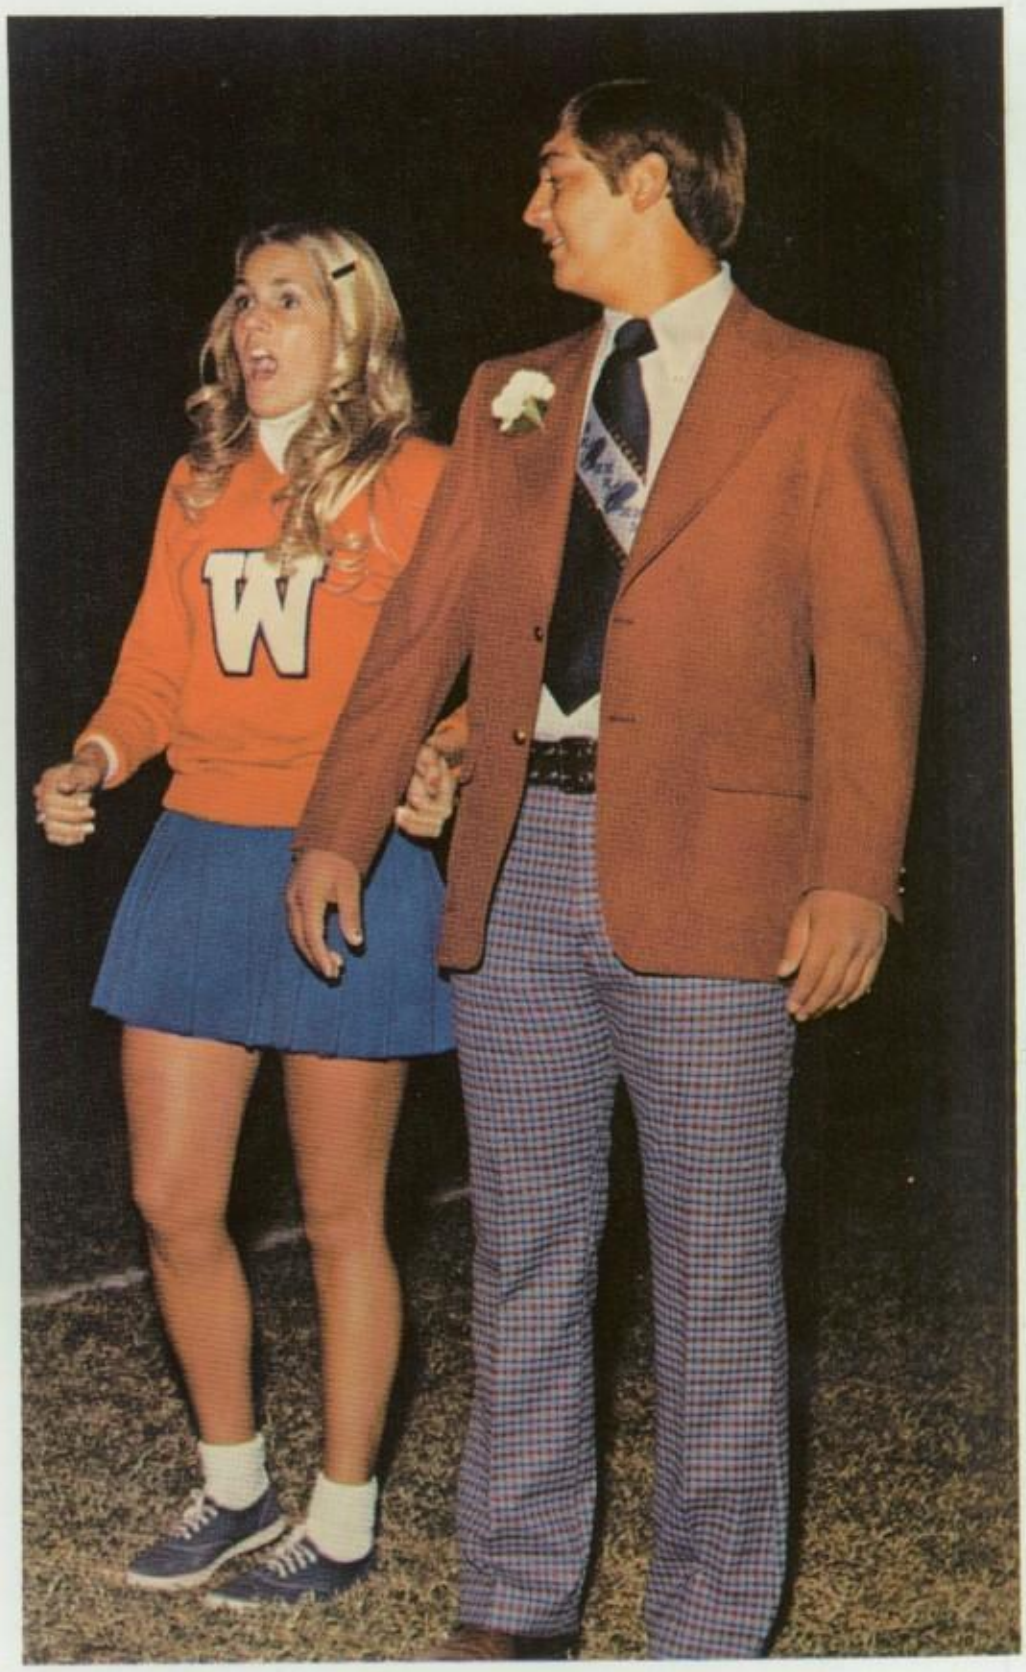
Gigantic paper mache figures, beautiful girls, virile boys, an exciting football game—all this was Homecoming 1973.

Plans were in the making for some three weeks before hand as the members of the classes worked days, nights, and weekends to make their float the one that the 8,000 people would cheer.

Meanwhile, ten nervous girls and boys wondered just how the students would vote. Morning of the big day dawned bright and clear and Homecoming assembly started off the day's activities.

Then came THE night. The Chargers of McClintock lost very gracefully to our Warriors. Halftime approached. The floats came out onto the track and the seniors won. Finally, Kim Cummins and John Norzagary were named to royalty and were seated in honor at the dance.





Upper Left: Touch down! That's what Ronnie Bonner had in mind as he headed for the goal. Above: Old Alumni, comedians Tom and Jerry returned to lighten up the assembly with comedy acts and jokes. Right: "Me?" cries Kim Cummins when announced Homecoming Queen. "I knew it all the time!" replies Gabrial Sezate.

Top: Riding their victory float, the King and Queen, John Norzagaray and Kim Cummins, circle the field for the last time to delight their fans. Above: The amazing Class of '74' does it again as they take winning float for two consecutive years. Bottom Left: Boom! "If this doesn't get their attention, nothing will!" exclaims Alan Wootton. Well ... anyway, it got Craig Robb and Steve Poleo's attention.

Pupils Join Clubs for Fun and Spirit

A great opportunity came to all Westwood students during Thai-Chew-Wee Week. This was a chance to get involved in school and community affairs. Thai-Chew-Wee Week means join a club week and that is exactly what hundreds of students did. There were many beneficial and educational clubs here at Westwood. During Thai-Chew-Wee Week the clubs set up attractive booths and recruited new members. This year there were many fine booths. Club veterans put in a lot of work to set up colorful, eye-catching attractions. Some organizations went all out and created an atmosphere of excitement in the students. Spanish Club, Latin Club, and Awathum Club had customary apparels worn in their various cultures. Thai-Chew-Wee Week proved to be a great success this year as membership and spirit increased throughout the many organizations.

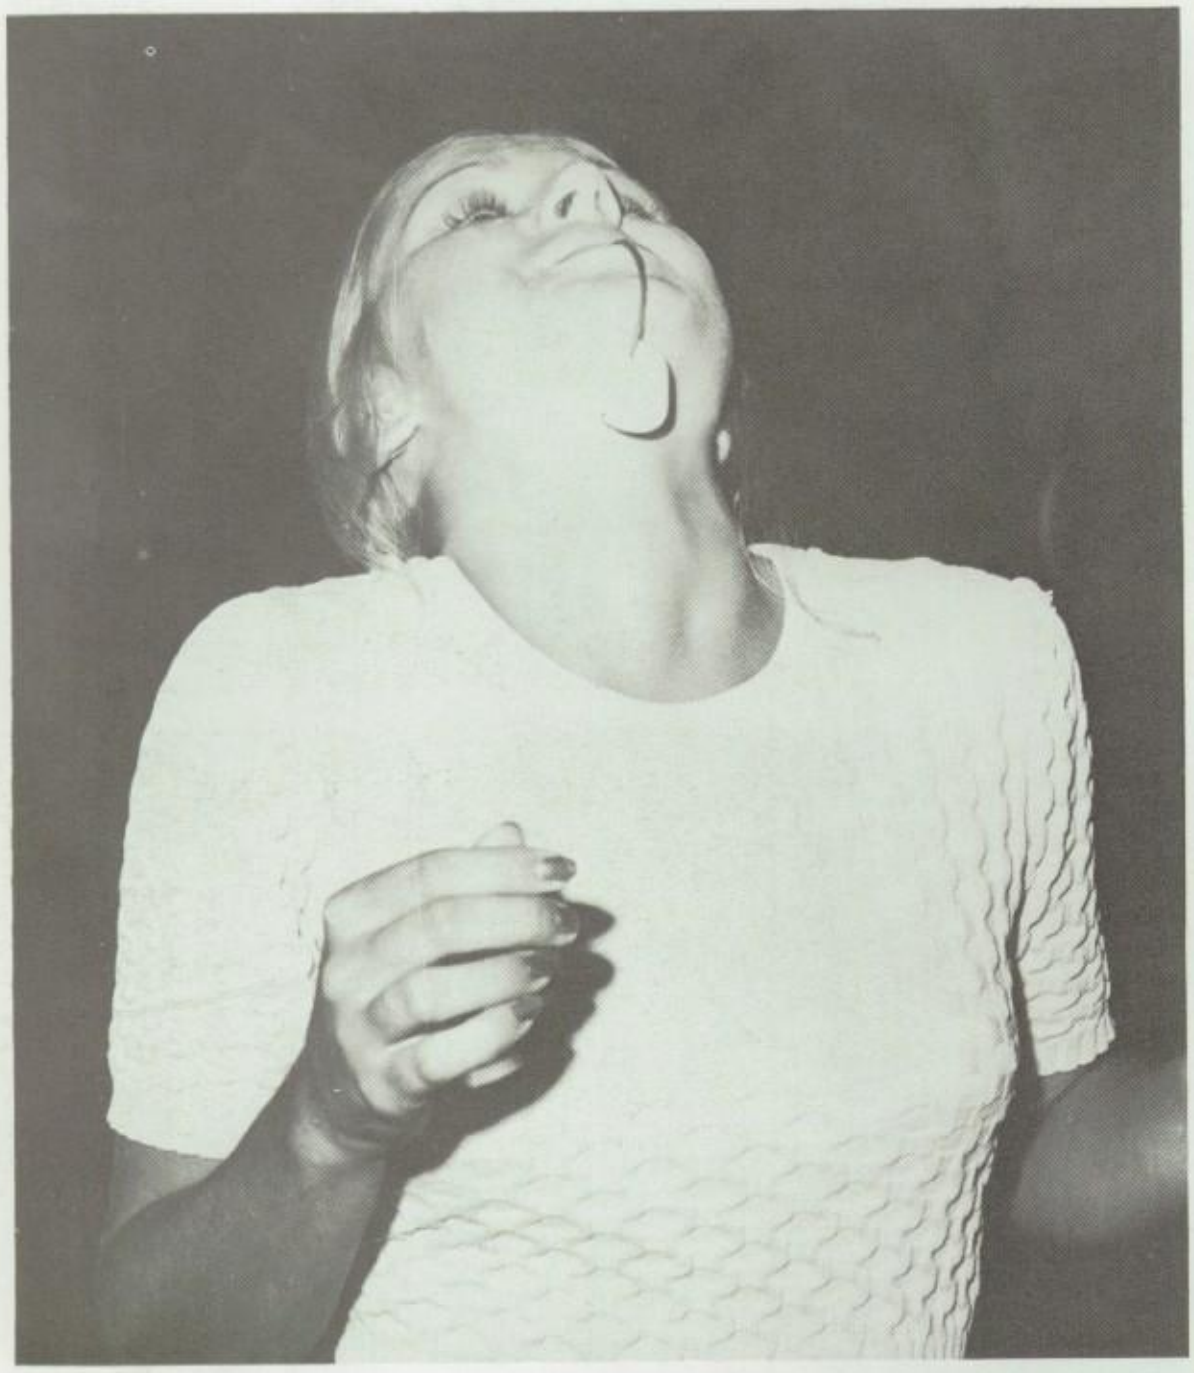
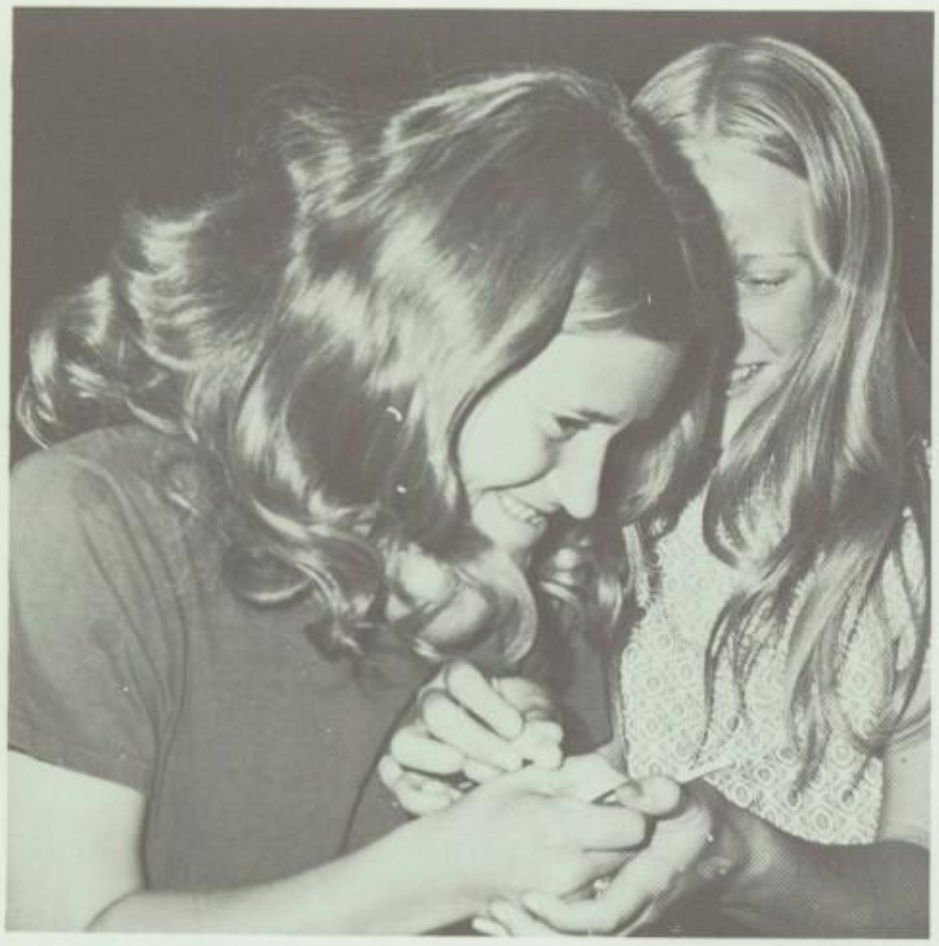
Daddy-Daughter Date Highlights Evening for Many Great Fathers



A warm evening in October brought many fathers and daughters together; all participating in the annual Daddy-Daughter Date. This event is sponsored by Girls' League and seems to improve with each year.

This fun filled picnic, held on the eve of the World Series, brought many devoted fathers to enjoy and spend time with their daughters. All came to try their skill at wacky relay races, balloon popping games, and crazy eating contests!

The Daddy-Daughter Date was just one of the many ways in which Girls' League raised money for their Co-Ed, held late in March following G.A.B. Week.

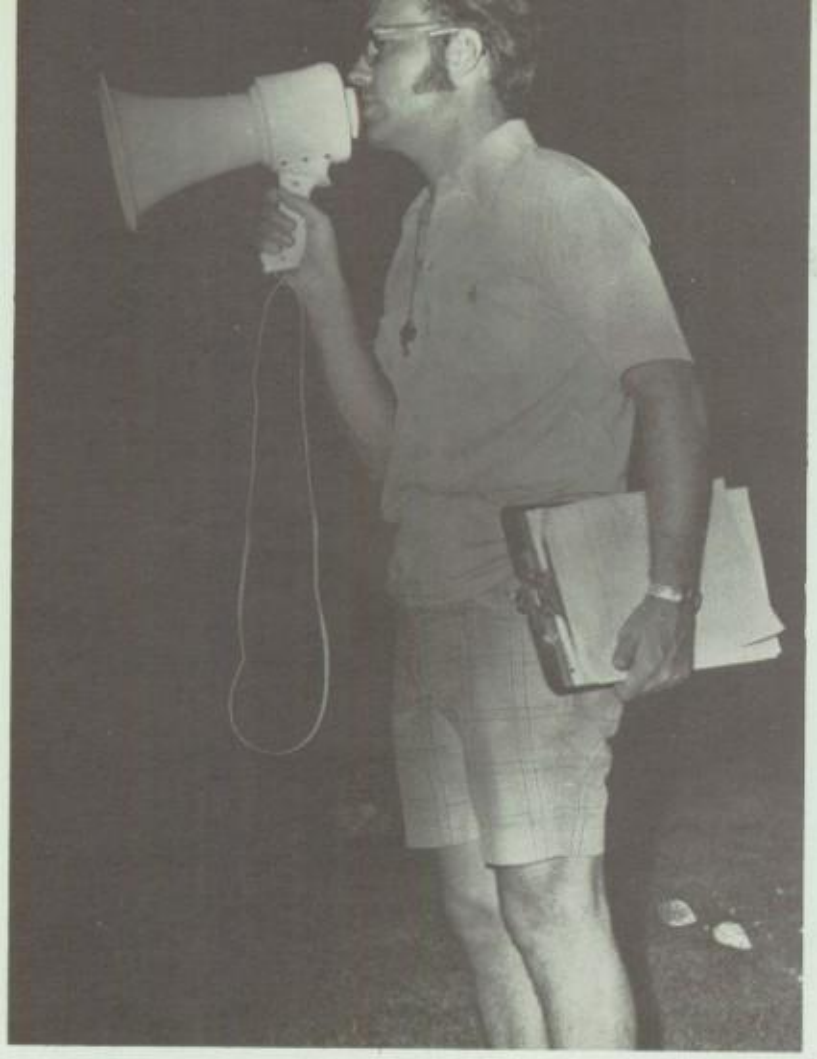


Extreme Upper Left: "I thought I would never make it to the end!" exclaims Sherrie Mathis as she reaches the end of the licorice string. Extreme Left: "And the generation battles it out . . ." as the big contest between Barbara Hoffman and her father draws to a close. Left: Quarterback Audree Jarvis laughs at the sneering look on her fathers face as he attempts to threaten the opposing team. Above: "Trap play 36-24-36!" Joe Flory says as he makes the big play. Enthusiastic Terrie Jackson and her father prepare to carry out Joe's plan. Top Right: Here's to you Dad!" proclaims Vickie Lynn Gurr as she toasts her glass of punch. Top Left: With the evil look on Denita Skidmore's face these girls have to be up to something sneaky.

Halftime Music: The Beat Goes on

Long hours of hard work . . . pre-game excitement . . . the satisfaction of doing your best. The Warrior Band experienced all of this with their many long hours of diligent practice on the field and performing during Tribe football games. Perfection was their goal, and, under the direction of Joe Lloyd, whether on the field, in the stands, or under the lights, this goal was reached many times over.

Left: Hup, two, three, four . . . Karen Topp, Gayle Lyncy, Jolene Stapley and Susan Reynolds have that look of pride as they march in formation. Above: "Look mom only one!" grins Ferde Valenzuela as he expects Diana Clement to laugh. Top: Sparkling Sherry Sevland pauses for the photographer during one of the spectacular half-time performances.



Above: "Calling all trumpets, calling all trumpets!" Band director Joe Lloyd calls the trumpeteers over to tell them what a great job they have been doing. Right: "What a body," sighs John Nesbitt describing the sight in front of him. "Mmm ..." agrees Quinn Packard amazed and almost speechless. Below: "You mean we were supposed to be down on the field 15 minutes ago?" asks the scared and surprised Lynn Doxie as Gary Pendicord watches for Mr. Lloyd.

Above Right: Christmas Hall Decorations were fun for all as they brought the spirit of Christmas to Westwood students. Michelle Harris has the happy glimmer in her eyes. Below Right: "Isn't he a sweet thing!" snickers Linda Brooksby as she pinches Santas cheek. Far Upper Right: Mistletoe is Pico's excuse to snitch a kiss this time and Linda Wintersteen doesn't seem to mind. Extreme Bottom Right: "Mmm ... scrumptious," replies Ray Best after tasting Cindy Bell's Christmas goodies.

Christmas Spreads Love at Westwood

With students rushing around giving cheerful greetings and desperately trying to find some mistletoe, there was definitely an atmosphere of love and joy in the month of December.

A beautiful display for Christmas was done on Christmas Halls this year. Even though class competition wasn't involved in the making of the halls, everyone got a chance to help. The creative and careful workmanship on the clever scenes was enjoyed by all!

Traveling a long journey to Mesa Community College, many students wearing tuxedos and long formals enjoyed themselves immensely. The band, "Beau Geste" presented music for a great dance. Thanks to Matt Ellsworth, President of Boys League, and his fellow associates, a splendid job was done in decorating and sponsoring the highly successful Christmas Formal.

A big round of applause goes to Bill Heob who sponsored a successful canned food drive and brought in over six-thousand cans. Thanks to Bill and the students, this Christmas was not only beneficial to the students of Westwood, but also to the many needy people of the community.

Thunder,

Thunderation,

We're the Best Team in the Nation!

AFS Week Features Fun and Activity

American Field Service or AFS Week brought much competitive fun to Westwood this year. The annual Powder-puff game was a wiz for the Seniors to win and raised a large sum of money from Warrior spectators for the AFS fund.

AFS Week is set aside to raise funds to bring students from other countries to the United States and send students from the United States abroad. The classes compete against each other in raising the most money for points towards the Natani Award, given at the end of the year.

Some of the events held were the Slave Sale, the Junior picnic, sale of candy bars and licorice, the giant ice cream sundae, the girls Powder-puff game, as well as several other fun events.

AFS Week 1974 was great fun and a real success!

Left: "Step right up, step right up," exclaim slave auctioners Dave Gardner and John Norzagary. "Do I hear one dollar? One dollar! Do I hear two dollars? Two dollars from that gentleman over there! Do I hear three dollars? . . ." Slave Shelley Walker eventually went for $5.50 during the first lunch auction. Top: Senior class cheerleaders stomp up a cheer, then gradually build up a pyramid during the Powder Puff Basketball game. Yeomen of the Guard Takes Audiences to Ancient England

Mid-November saw merry old England come to life in Shepherd Auditorium as the Performing Arts Department presented a Gilbert and Sullivan musical, "Yeomen of the Guard". This musical was under the direction of Mr. Jay Dean Jones, with the assistance of Honor Choir under the direction of Mrs. White, and orchestra under the direction of Mr. Joe Lloyd.

A love story, "Yeomen of the Guard" proved to be quite enjoyable. The acting was enhanced by Paul Ellsworth who portrayed Jack Point. Also excellently executed were the parts of Colonel Fairfax played by Steve Gainer and Phoebe Merryl by Robin Ruiz.

The story opens as Colonel Fairfax is accused and sentenced for a crime he did not commit. Because Fairfax had friends, he was able to escape. Turmoil strikes the village at Fairfax's disappearance and the mystery begins.

"YEOMEN OF THE GUARD"

Colonel Fairfax	Steve Gainer
Jack Point	Paul Ellsworth
Phoebe Merryl	Robin Ruiz
Elsie Maynard	Lynn Moore
Wilfred Shadbolt	David Gardner
Dame Carruthers	Leslie Boyle
Sergeant Merryll	David Jones
Leonard Merryll	Fred Asby
Lieutenant Cholmondely	Ron St. John
Kate	Norene Ray

Ah-Choo Shows Audience the Old West

The Class Play of '75 was off with a sneeze as the comical play Ah - Choo was presented to the Westwood Audience.

The story centered around a small town's local saloon in the mid-west. Bar maids can-canned their way across the stage in colorful dresses and fish net stockings, bringing back the feeling of the old west. The swinging and sweet voiced entrance of "Lola", played by Lisa Sezate, a voluptous saloon girl, silenced the audience with awe as she sang her sad song.

Ah-Choo, the Chinese hero, played by Stan Ray, brought laughter to all as he and the Bad Guys staged a slow motion gun fight. The bumbling sheriff wasn't much help for the town in fighting the Bad Guys off, but Ah-Choo came through for them, and found himself a wife while doing so.

As the scene closed, the stage was filled with all the members of the cast singing a song to the bride and groom who lived happily ever after.

Karen Sims Receives '74 Chieftain Crown During Evening Filled With Fun, Dancing

Five pretty girls stood sparkling, anxiously awaiting the announcement of the 1974, Chieftain Princess. In a split second the suspense was over and the excited Karen Sims cried out with glee as she received her crown from Carolyn Gong, last year's Chieftain Princess. Tears of joy and congratulations surrounded the new princess and her attendants, Sue McCreary, Dixie Duffey, Lory Copenhaver, and Joan Orr.

The candidates were selected on their activity and contribution to the publications staff for at least two years. Karen served as assistant editor of the War Chant, editor of the Senior section of the yearbook, as well as working at various other positions.

Following the fast moving game against Mesa, the Chieftain dance was a highlight for our victory. The fine music played by the "Balsey Blues" along with the warm atmosphere made this an evening to remember.

Left: Crowd roars with excitement as Westwood eeks out the winning two points over the Mesa High Jackrabbits in the basketball game before the dance. Above: Dancing to the sounds of "Balsey Blues" several couples enjoy an old hit, 'Colour My World.' Right: "I still can't believe it!" cries the excited Karen Sims as she takes the Chieftain Honor. Below: Carolyn Hom Gong turns over her crown to a happy Karen Sims, just crowned the 1974-1975' Cheiftain Princess. David Wade, Karen's escort, smiles with his approval.

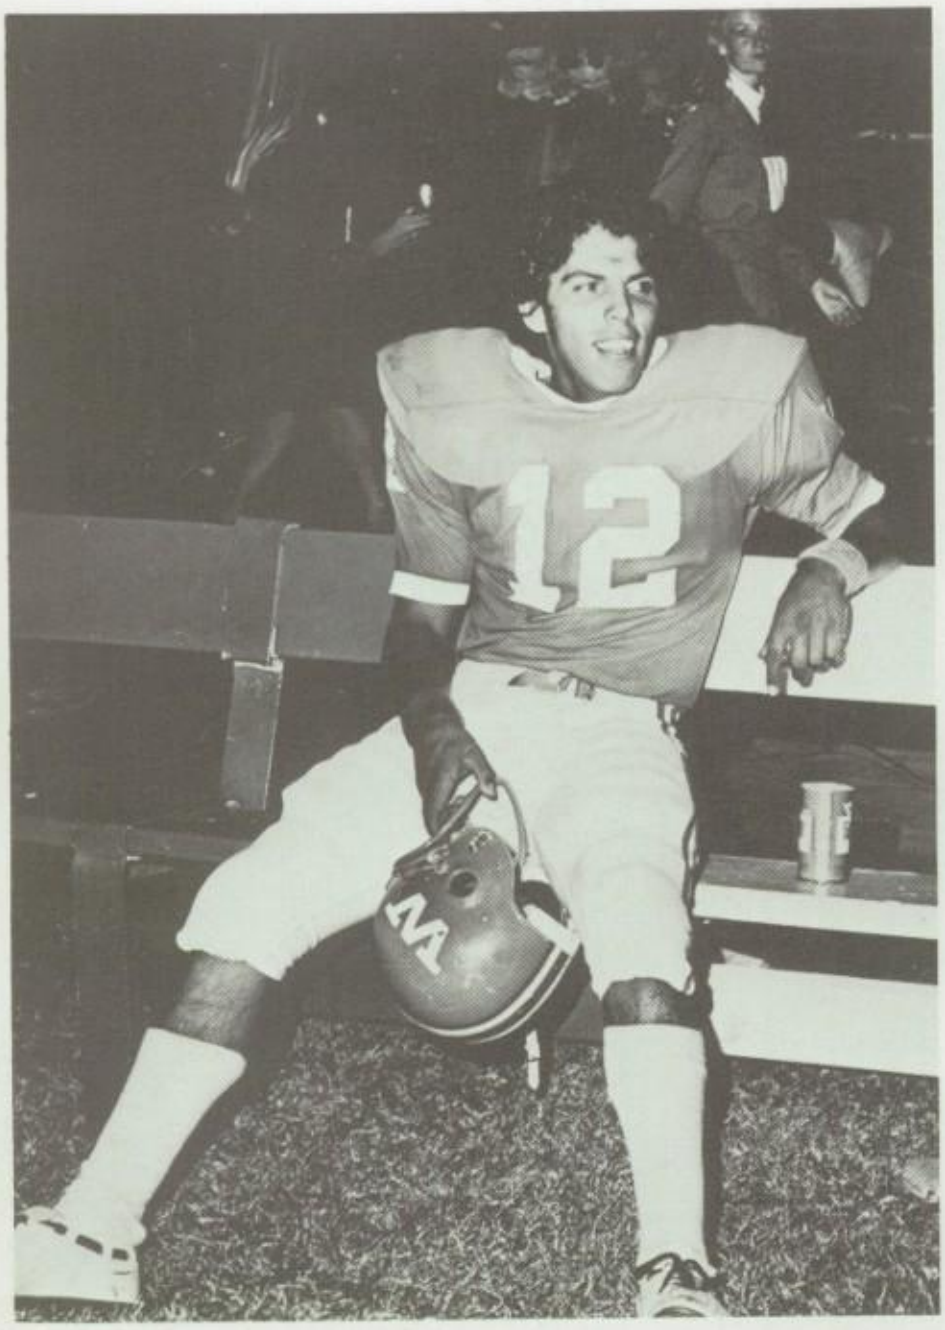
All-American Bonner Leads 9-1 Season



The year was 1973 and it was Dave Gates' last season as head coach of the Westwood varsity football gang. He ended his reign in a winning but disappointing style. His tough Warriors went on the warpath and gained nine triumphs against one loss. The crucial defeat was to league foe Coronado, who eventually landed the play-off berth.

There were many players who "did their thing" and did it well game after game. The powerful Westwood offense stormed their way to 47 touchdowns. Leading the way was halfback Ron Bonner, who was named high school All-American. He tore up the turf for 20 touchdowns and 144 total points. At the quarterback slot, the Hernandez brothers (Hector and Junior) combined for 766 aerial yards.

Opponents had a terrible time against the Warrior defense. Players like Doug Steiner and Carl Maloney allowed "enemies" only 160 points all season. Quite a nice farewell present for Coach Gates.

Apache Team Hands Mesa Three Losses

As the old Chinese saying goes, "either you have it or you don't." The 1973 Westwood Apache football squad apparently "had it" as they passed and scrambled to a successful 7-3 season.

Behind the careful guidance of Head Coach Al Thomas and Assistant Coach John Louis, the Apaches dominated opponents with their explosive offensive maneuvers and stingy defense. In ten games, the Apache gridders hauled up a total of 221 points compared to 131 for their shocked opponents.

The pigskin aerial attack was triggered by the strong arm of quarterback Steve Rangel, while running backs Dan Brown, Mike Gilbert and Ray Mehan chalked up tons of yardage on the ground.

Strong linemen Mitch Opie, Bryan Korte and Dwight Goodwin demolished their foes.

JV Gridders Score Seven Sweaty Wins

While most of the nation suffered from the discomforts of the energy crisis, the Junior Varsity football team noticed no such shortage. They overpowered their enemies, rolling up seven exciting wins and only four defeats on the gridiron turf.

The "Do Not Die" defense was led by sophie lineman John Finnell and tough Jim Bodine. Scoring touchdowns was the grueling job of backs Kelly Webb, Randy Brown, and Perry Strong.

Victory was sweet for first year Head Coach Bob Soza and his able assistant, Brian Foster. Their gridmen collected a couple of three game winning streaks and completely crushed lowly foes Prescott and Scottsdale by large margins.

Harriers Run to Second Place Finish

Coach Jobski scans the horizon for some sign of his runners, while Robert Reichart lends an eye.

Question: What has 62 hairy legs and runs very fast? Answer: Westwood's Cross Country team.

Running through their schedule with only one blemish was not an easy thing for the Tribe harriers this season. The team stayed together, however, and overcame many hurdles to compile a very successful 8-1 record.

Senior Mark Foster led the varsity, breaking course records almost every time he ran. Other stars for the squad were Kevin Anderson, Ed Silvas, and Fred Tau. Outstanding efforts by these runners helped Westwood to a second place finish in the Division.

First year coach Jerry Jobski developed some outstanding junior varsity runners which also finished the season with an 8-1 record.

Beavers Upset Tribe Five in Play-Offs

For Coach Buddy Doolen, his first year at Westwood was a mixture of sweetness and sorrow. After losing five out of their first seven games, the Warrior dribblers rebounded for a six game winning streak. Their final regular season tally was twelve wins and eight loses. In the division play-offs, the Tribe beat Arcadia and Mesa but lost to a Cinderella team, the Scottsdale Beavers.

Frontcourt men Greg Gatewood and Chuck Kinard led their buddies with clusters of rebounds while Scott Smith fired in long bombers for points. J.C. Jackson and Dave Preston handled their backcourt duties with sparkle.

Matmen Battle to Second in Divisionals

Taking a group of inexperienced varsity wrestlers to an 8-1-1 season is not an easy thing to do, but that's what Coach Joe Pico did with this years team.

At the beginning of the year, only Steve Marsden had any varsity experience. After going through most of the season undefeated, he took second in the state meet. Many hours of hard work by the rest of the team made up for their lack of experience. Gabe Sezate, wrestling in the heavyweight division, terrorized opponents during the season and led the team in pins. Also outstanding were Steve Rangel, Marty Park, Roy Welch, and Steve Cheney.

The Warriors suffered their only loss when they met head on with the state champion McClintock Chargers. Westwood's grapplers were also tough in the big invitationals and at Peoria they placed second out of 32 schools.

J.V. Court Cagers Face Ups and Downs

Crowds were scarce but talent was overflowing on the Junior Varsity basketball team. The big trouble was putting it all together in the right combination. Coach Jeff Mackey's dribblers struggled throughout the season to come up with more wins than defeats. Disappointing were two losses to arch-rival Mesa High but the JV's fought to crush tough Tempe and the Chargers of McClintock.

The Warriors depended a great deal on backcourt men Jim Wright and Matt Boettcher to run the fast breaks and to find the hoop for long jump shots. Rebounding and inside scoring were left up to big Bill Crandell and Ben Davis.

JV Wrestlers Grab Winning 7-3 Season

It took a lot of hard work and determination by Westwood's JV wrestlers this year to compile a winning 7-3 record. Under coach Jim Kelly, the grapplers put some strong holds on their opponents, including a 66-0 shutout over Chandler. South Mountain was also conquered and had to sneak out of the gym after being beaten 64-3.

Only three foes were able to pull the ole' reversal as the Warriors fell to Mesa, McClintock, and Coronado. Outstanding wrestlers for the squad were Mike Bright, Jody Schrage, Monty Misken, and Hank Decheeny.

Gymnasts Work Hard in Hopes for State

Quality, not quantity proved to be the case as this year's gymnastics team was small but powerful. With the expertee instruction of Coach Richard Impson, the team worked as many as four long hours daily to improve themselves and their routines.

This year's team promised to be one of the strongest and most versatile Westwood has ever seen. Part of the reason was the amount of returning lettermen. There were several individual star performers who hoped on going to state. Among them were Bryn Johnson and Jerry Woodruff, all around; Randy Milligan, side horse; Frosty Schultz, parrallel bars; Steve Cheney on rings, and Lyle Schultz on the high bar. The squad also was priviledged to have a few sophomore hopefuls with ability, such as Brian Lawerence.

Ability Shown By Gymnasts is Hard Work

Girls Gymnastics Have a Busy Year

The far-out, keep on trucking, Girls Gymnastic team really proved better than best this year. How can you go wrong with the talant, devotion and hard work displayed this past season? Everyday a lot of time and effort was put-in to make these girls the finest in the state. Coached by Julie Ann Crutchfield and assistant Carol Johnson, this team was always prepared and rearing to go.

A new experiment was tried and proved to be very successful. The Boys Gymnastic team worked out along with the girls. This made both strive harder to perfect and expand their abilities.

Tennis Team Makes Racket on Courts

Winning is really a great feeling. That's what the male tennis team found out. Facing mighty rivals such as Casa Grande, Alhambra, Arcadia and Mesa, Coach Dick Hawkins made it a point that his troops played at their best. It was a rough and tumble season filled with great court wizardry. Eddie Conn, Scott Christiansen, Mike Grisz and Tom Flynn provided the "bomb threat."

New material made up the tough fiber of the Junior Varsity squad. Consistency was demonstrated by Bill Ray, Mark Kuhse, Jim Michaud and Robert Johnson. Who knows? Maybe one of them will be a future Bobby Riggs.

Skilled Tennis Cuties Zap Challengers

Spring had sprung and girls were on the minds of everyone—girls tennis that is. With Miss Munoz acting as racket coach, the gals slammed their way to a successful, spine-tingling season. With six returning "vets", the varsity team outgunned their opponents with smashing returns and tricky serves. Top girls were Janice Ray, Renae Ricks, Teri Schlarbaum and the "tennis twins," Janet and Gail Moon. They were quite a fearsome bunch of females.

Although the Junior Varsity group consisted of nine sophomores and only one junior, they held their ground with poise during pressure moments. Melinda Kuhse, Arlene Kapanicas and Steffanie McFarland netted the "big ones." Even Bobby Riggs would have shuddered at the sight of them.

Seasoned Golfers Putt Away Problems

"Fore!" This shout was heard throughout the fairways as the golf season putted away. With three year veterans such as Charley Standage, David Jones, Ross Farnsworth, Pete Kilpatrick, and Gary Lammens on the squad, the team was blessed with old-pro experience. Returning lettermen Brad Gregory, Bill Robb, Kenny Norman, and Bill Wunderlee also contributed to a winning cause. Sophomores Robert Mendivil and Robbie Potter made up the younger set of the team that played most of their home contests at the Mesa Country Club. Under the steady coaching of Erv Reid, the golfers cut down on strokes and kept their cool under pressure.

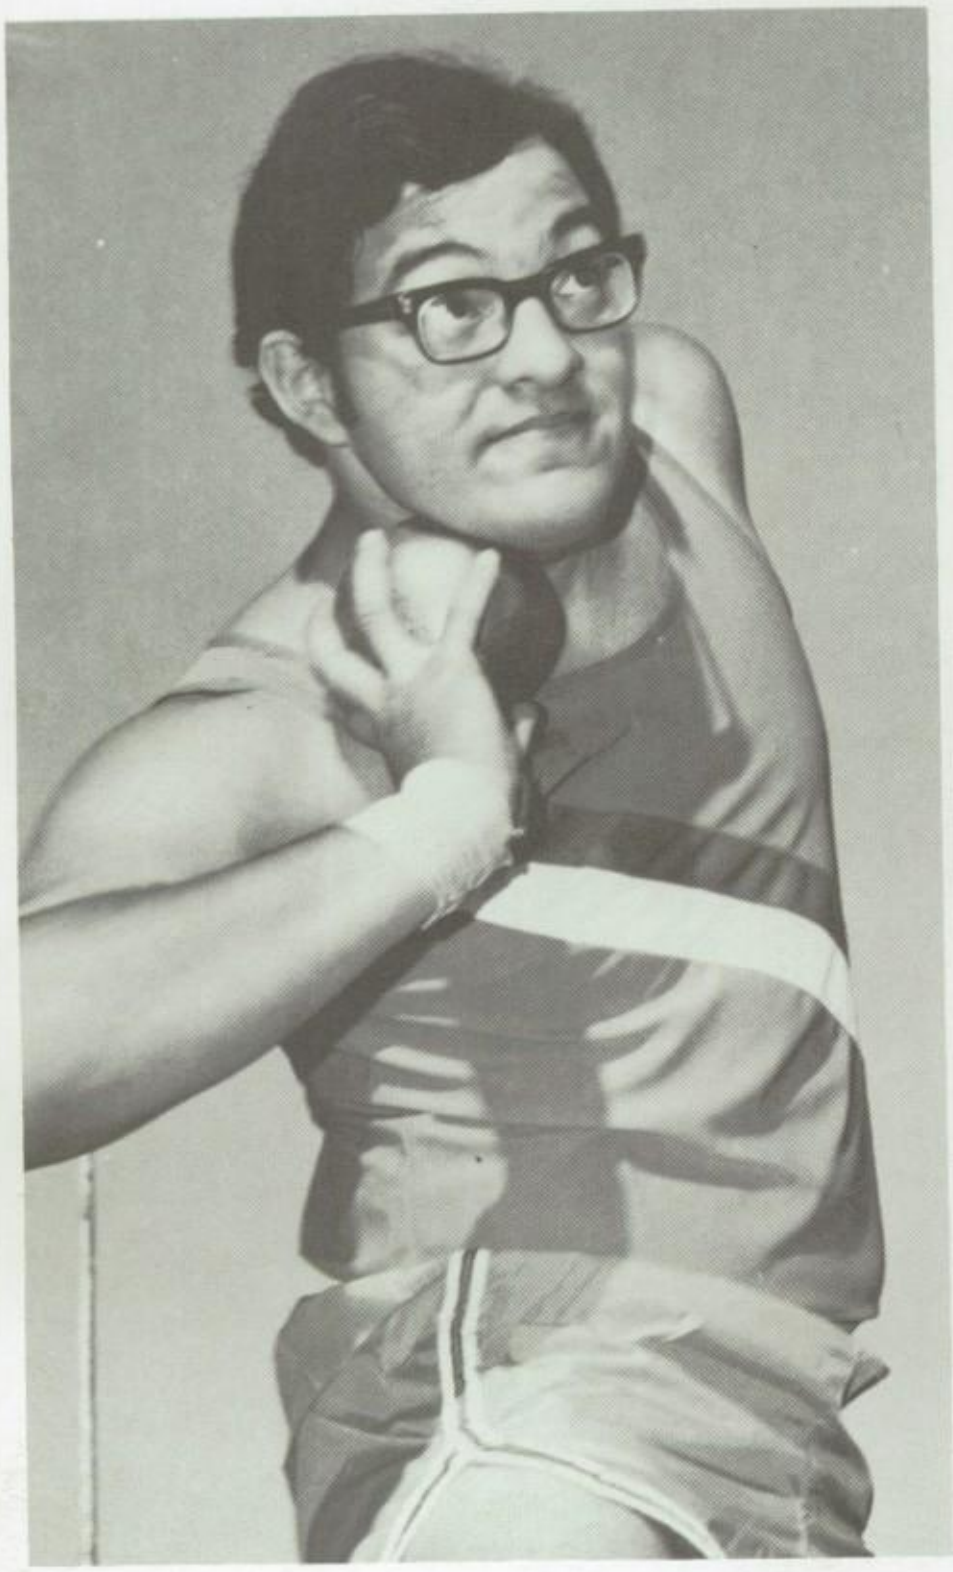
Warrior Thinclads Wing Past Opponents With New Records



Defending their state championship title was the goal of the 1974 version of the orange and blue track machine. Once again, seasoned vet Austin McNaughton provided his strong leadership at the coaching helm. The spikers opened up their season with a rough schedule, facing first the McClintock Chargers and then the revenge angry Rebels of South Mountain.

As the season progressed, the young team gained needed experience through defeat, as well as victory. This experience, combined with a lot of hard work was reflected throughout the year by the improving times and distances.

Great improvement was shown this year in the weight events where arm strength was the name of the game. Senior John Engel wound up and launched the discus amazing distances while Pat Acosta fired the shot put like a human cannon.

In the middle distances, the Warrior Thinclads were especially tough due to their tremendous depth. Mark Foster, Kevin Anderson, Doug Donahue, Mark Boynton, and Fred Tau combined to give distance opponents nothing but trouble all season long.

All in all, it was a great season filled with excitement and good times.

Warrior Swimmers Vie for State Title As Season Splashes to a Great Start

With the bang of the gun, the Warrior swimmers hit the water and splashed their way to an outstanding season. With the 1973 State Relay championship, experience and drive behind them, many returning letterman such as Pat Healy, Don Straugh, Todd Kienitz, Tim Sears, Tim Stockes, and Karl Hiatt, recieved much worthy praise. Under the leadership of the co-captains, Bob Shearin, David Wade, Phil Marson, Dean Gardner, and Blake Peterson, along with the sophie power of Jeff Shipe, Monty Worthington, Fritz Byerly, and many others made up the winning crew. Dedicated coaching by Mr. Craig Cummins paid off, as enthused spectators cheered the Warriors to their victories.

Success seemed to be on the Warriors side, as divers Kenley Brunsdale, Alan Wootton, Fred Kientz, and Paul Lamoreoux, sprung for perfection in their dives.

In the Spring of 1974, Westwood's baseball diamonds sparkled with the gloved greats that made up the Warrior baseball club.

Consistancy in all fields was the reason the varsity ball team was so successful this season. In the pitching department, Rocky Riggs, Larry Cooper and Mark Gunning always turned in solid performances by outsmarting enemy batters. When the opposition did manage to make contact, the Warrior Diamond Demons often shot them off the base paths, with very few errors.

On the offensive end of the game, the big guns sprayed the infield and outfield with smashing line drives and grounders. Once on base, they stiffled opponents with their speed as Craig Patterson, Hector Hernandez and Sterling Hester stretched long singles into extra-base hits.

Coach Goodman's team found cross-town rival Mesa High and the Coronado Dons as hard nosed opponents.

Home runs, good pitching and fabulous catching highlighted the play of the Junior Varsity baseballers. Ken Raupp and Sam Doell, among others, sparked Coach Schlarbaum's nifty nine to key wins during the year.

Volleyball Females Lose in Semifinals

When opponents came onto the court against Westwood's mighty volleyball team this season, one of the most dangerous places to be was across the net from captain Dena Coleman. Her vicious spikes and accurate returns spelled doom for many teams this season.

The girls often thrilled the crowd with exciting plays. First, foreign exchange student Kyoko Mori would run up the score with her smashing serves and then Janice Hall and Karen Webb would hold the opponents with their diving and leaping returns.

With Julie Crutchfield's watchful coaching, the team's hard work and many hours of practice paid off time after time during the season. Their exciting wins earned the gals an invitation to the Arcadia Volleyball Tournament where they captured the second place trophy. The spikers went on with skilled determination to a 6-2 season, losing only to Arcadia and Coronado. At the close of the regular season, the team traveled to the divisionals with high hopes. Unfortunately, the team lost out in the semifinals after being defeated by Arcadia in two tough games.

Archery Gals Find Marks; Badminton Birdies Opponents

A lot of Westwood's girls were kept busy with good times this year by Miss Jean Shields. First she coached the Archery team, which had another good season this year. Shooters like Elise Freestone, Linda Hosking, Sandy Gainer, and Gaylene Higley found the Bull's Eye often enough throughout the season to be the team's leading archers.

Next Miss Shields coached the girls Badminton team to an outstanding 7-1 season, including two exciting shut-outs over cross-town rivals, Mesa High. Only an upset loss to McClintock by a score of 2-7 prevented an undefeated season. The girls that made such a good season possible were Carol Smith, Karen Schuster, Deanna Smith, Gaylene Higley, Dianna Holt, and Beth Scheid.

Besides winning games and matches, the girls that participated in these sports won something else. And that was friendship.

Publications Staff Survives Deadlines

Putting out the school's publications is a lot more work than many people realize. In both the War Chant and in the Chieftain, deadlines had to be met—or else! With a competent publications staff however, fifteen fine issues of the War Chant newspaper and a bigger and better Chieftain were published during the year.

For the newspaper, editor Mark Ishikawa, along with associate Karen Sims at his side, kept his cool and put the staff to work so that a four-page journal could be handed out to the student body on every other Thursday during fifth period.

Brian Ishikawa and Audree Jarvis headed the yearbook production with a handful of personel assisting. The Chieftain was expanded by some sixteen pages to properly cover the numerous school events held during the year while a new and different type of style was adopted.

DECA, VICA, HERO Open the Doors to Many Opportunities

Opportunity knocked on the doors of Westwood in the disguise of DECA, VICA and HERO. All of these programs provided experience in the world of business.

DECA centered on marketing and distribution careers. Department stores employed many DECA enrollees. This club found time to sponsor a canned food drive so the holiday season would be more enjoyable for others. VICA met in class every day to provide supplementary education for their work experience. Various construction companies and banks utilized several VICA members. Geared toward home economic careers, HERO prepared students for work in this field. Restaurants, hospitals, and other establishments were anxious to hire the talented student workers that were part of HERO.

Work experience is not the only advantage these programs have to offer. School credits were given for this out-of-class education. Even better, students were paid a regular salary for their energetic efforts. Organizations like these are an effective way to get a foot in the door of the future.

Locating this position through VICA, Marla Kempton works by assisting Dr. Alma Judd at the local dentist's office.

COE and FDNA Serve As a Guiding Light for Some

Many Warriors, with the same old routine beginning to get a little on the heavy side, decided to seek knowledge, achievement, and money. For this, they went to COE (Cooperative Office Education). This program was designed to provide business with competent, experienced office workers. It served as a training program for high school juniors and seniors who concentrated on bookkeeping, secretarial work, and accounting. The club not only trained students, but helped them find jobs.

This year COE was more involved in community activities than ever. At Thanksgiving and Christmas they sponsored dinners for needy families. They also sold candy and stationary to provide money for an employers banquet held in April. Over 600 people attended this event, which made it a real success. Although they were involved in many fund raising events, the business experience proved to be of the greatest values.

FDNA represented Future Doctors and Nurses of America, and was designed to help high school students train for a medical future. With Mrs. Cramer as the sponsor, the club proved to be very useful not only for the members, but for the nurse who appreciated the help.

Clubs Participate in Dancing and Drama

"Energetic" was the word for Masque and Dagger this year. Their performing season began with "An Evening of One-Act Plays." The autumn show was so successful that another "Evening" was presented in the Spring. Also in the Spring, Masque and Dagger participated in Westwood's Fine Arts Week. In splendid improvised period costumes, the group performed excerpts from several Shakespearean plays.

While learning traditional folk dances, Los Chicanos Unidos also studied ancient Mexican culture. Other organizations were interested in their studies and asked the dancers to perform at club meetings. To increase awareness of Mexican-American heritage, the Chicanos presented an assembly in March with the M.C.C. group Theater.

Who focused the spotlight on the star and dimmed the lights in the auditorium? Stage Crew, eleven hard working guys who spent scores of hours setting up for Westwood's performances. The boys often met and talked with well-known entertainers, making the long hours worthwhile.

Setting the lights as well as the atmosphere for another of Westwood's truly outstanding assemblies is Stage Crew member Jim Toland.

Picnics, Dances Just a Few of Girls, Boys League Activities

Westwood's Girls and Boys League have done it again. They have come up with another fantastic year. This years groups have sponsored such functions as selling refreshments at football games, and various other activities.

Girls League came up on top this year with the help of Mrs. Forest and Mrs. Gearhart. G.A.B. week was a success once again. The Co-ed was held at ASU, and the movie and picnic brought good crowds. Fathers and their Daughters enjoyed th. mselves thoroughly at the annual Daddy Daughter Date.

Boy's League sponsored the Christmas Formal with the theme "Under the Mistletoe". Mr. Hawkins and Mr. Larson sponsored Boy's League activities.

FFA Members Learn by Involvement in Various Activities

Westwood's FFA, with its 230 members, is the largest chapter in the state. Not only is it the biggest, but this year it was the best. In state-wide competition throughout the year, Westwood's Future Farmers of America always placed in the top.

With so many members, the club required a lot of help from its faculty advisors. This year the head advisor was Mr. Chester Crandell, but Mr. Leo Peterson, Mr. Richard Sawter, and Mr. Moore also contributed their time and efforts to making the FFA a success. Another reason the club was such a success this year was its outstanding elected officers. Carl Graves served as president and presided over David Ohlund, vice-president; Pat Hunsaker, secretary; Rick Smith, treasurer; Teresa Egan, reporter; and Steve Drew, sentinal.

FFA Sweetheart this year was Judi Hamblin. Besides brightening the meetings it was her job to maintain the FFA scrapbook and to deal with public relations.

Dance Club Offers Chance for Girls to Show Off Skills

Hey twinkle toes! Have you ever wanted to create and express your ideas and imagination in dance? Then Dance Club is for you! Various opportunities in all areas of dance are available and need your talent. Throughout the year they presented two outstanding concerts as well as performing for community groups. In the fall concert, the audience caught a glimpse of the unique and extraordinary dances from around the world. Highlighting the Spring Concert were performers in the areas of modern, comedy, and jazz dancing. Choreography was done by the dance production class in this concert.

So, if you're willing to work and have desires and initiative to create and perform in this fine arts area, maybe you should be a member of Dance Club!

Speech—Debate Team Argues Case About Family Unit Income

"Resolved that the federal government should guarantee a minimum annual income for each family unit." This topic was used by the debate team in their ten tournaments throughout the year at which many of the Speech team members were named outstanding. Sponsoring the club were Mr. Johnson, and Mrs. Huffaker.

Competent, aggressive business leadership, interest and understanding, confidence and ability strengthened were all a part of the purpose of Future Business Leaders of America. Sponsoring the club were Mr. Thompson, and Mr. Hillman.

Career lab was a diversified co-operative work experience program aimed at the student with special needs. Field trips, speakers, research projects, and on the job experience, along with a great deal of counseling was experienced throughout the year with a sense of self awareness, and career direction.

Chess, Indians, and C.Y.A. Stay on the Go

Christian Youths of America (C.Y.A.) was a club that helped promote the good doings at Westwood. They met three times a week at 7:45 in the morning. During this period they had a time for singing, sharing, and praising. During the year C.Y.A. held a car wash and went on several retreats. "It was great" was the feedback received from the crew.

Chess club was excellent this year, although the quantity was not great. The quality, however, was quite good and competition was tough.

Indian Club was very much in action, and proved worthwhile to it's members. Mr. Barabe sponsored and directed the group with great leadership.

Foreign Clubs Make Profits From Sales

French, Latin, and Spanish clubs started the year off by participating in Thai-Chee-Wee Week. Each club set up a booth on campus to arouse interest and hopefully draw in new members.

Dollar signs were in the eyes of most clubs this past year and the foreign language clubs made special efforts to earn their goals.

Sponsoring a car wash and selling stationery at Christmas time were a few of French Club's fund raising projects, while candle sales headed the list of earnings for Latin Club. The key to Spanish Club's profits were the students big appetites. Reasonable sums were derived from selling tamales, along with a bake sale.

With all these activities, members kept busy, making this year rewarding.

Various Clubs Provide Fun Activities

Black is beautiful, especially for the small but powerful Ebony Club. These hard working girls put forth their time and effort to sponsor Black Heritage Week. During this week they presented a fashion show modeling the latest styles and at the end of the week, the Black Heritage Queen was chosen.

Another new club was born this year as a group of talented students formed Ski Club. With various outings to Sunrise, broken legs were far out of sight from being experienced as they improved their skills!

The Young Democrats and Republicans stayed alive on the off election year as they held meetings regularly!

Music, Songs Fill the Air

Two of the most involved and active programs on campus were Program Bureau and Stage Band. Program Bureau, consisting of all girls, was an exceptionally fine group. They performed in many stimulating concerts for the people of Mesa at Tri-City Hall and Shepherd Auditorium.

Stage Band, one of the more popular ensemble groups, was involved in several performances and shows. It's first performance was in "Curtain Time," one of the very first assemblies. Later, they played for the Mesa Junior Miss Pageant in November, plus many other concerts at Sheperd Auditorium.

They also hosted a Jazz Festival in December, held at Arcadia High.

Symphonies Serenade School in Splendor With Stylish Sound

Certain moods from sophistication to delightful amusement were created by our charmingly elegant and talented symphony orchestra. Hours of practice, rehearsal and valuable instruction from Mr. Engelsman and Mr. Lloyd resulted in maintaining their reputation as an exciting, vibrant group with professional quality. Free concerts were offered to the public; assemblies, a rock cantata and tunes for all music lovers were their contributions to our school. Also, their high rankings in state music festivals brought the name of Westwood to the public eye. This amazing group had something to offer everyone and has done more in the education and entertainment field than most people are aware.

What do you think of when you hear Concert Choir...? Soft lights and sexy sounds? Dinner for two at the Northbank? This year's Concert Choir was bigger and better than ever. Known as a "big time" choir, they provided entertainment at the spicy Rosarita Dinner and during the Christmas holidays performed the classic Canticle and Carols and Prince of Peace.

The Showcase Strings dedicated their time to servicing others locally and statewide. Strolling their way to fame, they played the fabulous Biltmore and the elegant Mountain Shadows. The twenty-four member group had an average of twenty performances this year. They played at trailer parks, conventions, banquets and for numerous service clubs, bringing the joys and sounds of good music to the public.

Musicians Work, Play to Entertain Many

The Apache Band had many outstanding performers. And several stunning performances such as the concert at Tri City Mall. They performed at a number of varsity pre-game exercises, participated in the spirit at basketball games, and took part in several parades. At semester the Apache Band broke into two smaller groups, the Concert Band at Westwood, the Warrior Band. Mr. Lloyd, with the assistance of drum major Randy Brown, helped bring out the finer qualities of the Apache Band.

Westwood's Mixed Chorus was known to build up self-confidence. This chorus prepared students to perform independently before an audience. Most of their concerts were school and community affairs.

Leading our amazing Apache Band to many grand performances is this year's Apache drum major Randy Brown.

Westwood Groups Rate High in Activity and Projects

Pretzels! Programs! Performance! What better way than this to illustrate these three clubs who serviced our community in the name of Westwood.

After winning the "Club of the Year Award" for '72-'73, "S" and German Club once again strove to the top through achievement.

"S" Club presented their traditional fashion show, along with their faithful ushering at concerts. This club lived, worked, and fulfilled their motto of SERVICE. Pretzel sales were only a small part of the ever-active German Club. Conventions, trips, and their annual October Fest, concluded the best year in Westwood's German Club history.

Singing for fun, frolic, and fame, Honor Choir kept busy this year with such projects as music festivals, concerts, and plans for Europe. All this was made possible by hard hours of rehearsing with their skillful director, Mrs. White.

Beautiful Voices Entertain Crowds

Travel, working, singing and playing were four of the big words on the lips of the Singing Warriors and the Westwood Girls Choirs this past year. Working five days a week along with many practice sessions on weekends and evenings helped to produce some of the finest sounds ever to vibrate throught the halls of this school. Not only did these groups perform for the students of Westwood in their annual Christmas and Spring concerts but too, they worked with the choirs of Mesa High in combined concerts.

One of the highlights of the year for the Singing Warriors was to sing under the direction of the SPEBSQSA and also to journey to Paradise Valley High School last November.

The seventy six members of the girls choir worked hark to master both popular, religious and classical songs and by the end of the year they were proud of the music that came forth from their efforts.

Spirit sounds and lots of talent characterized the Warrior Marching Band this year. Under the direction of Joe Lloyd, the Varsity Band received a superior rating again at the ASU Band Day competition. Our drum major, Dick Mayne, with the help of our fine majorette Sherry Sevland, combined their twirling talents to help produce some of the finest field shows for half time crowds this year. But half time entertainment was not the only talents our band displayed. Leading the fight song, accompanying the cheerleaders in spirit yells, and providing soulful music to various bleacher dancers were just some of the many ways in which the band helped school spirit.

Once again the Varsity Band placed many students in All-State this year. But the highlight of the students in the band was attending the 1973 Western Band Competition in La Mesa, California. Many students in the band worked hard in earning their way to this special event by candy selling, rummage sales, and stamp collecting.

Approximately 110 hard-working students made up the Warrior Marching Band this year. Their fine talents helped make this year the best ever at Westwood.

Student Leaders Promote Involvement

This year's enthusiastic, hard-working team of talented student leaders formed one of the most outstanding student councils in Westwood's history. Their emphasis on "good-ol-tradition" brought back many fun-filled activities and new projects. Remember the Pow Wow? And those original Christmas Halls? And how about that parking lot the seniors enjoyed? To top it all off, the council pulled through with a scenic patio between the lockers and the restoring of the Warrior Lawn. Well, you have this great group to thank for this past year of fun, activities, and most of all, friendships made in the process. Their dedication to our great student body made it possible for everyone to become involved and united to make 73-74 the greatest year ever!!!

Varied Honors Merit Prestige, Credit

Flagstaff and Tucson were the locations of one fun-filled week of traditional Boys' and Girls' State. These representatives from Westwood spent a hectic week campaigning, learning, and making friends while setting up a mock state government with representatives from all Arizona high schools. Invaluable knowledge was the product which they returned with in order to contribute more to our community.

Juniors Dale Watkins and Paul James formed a team to compete in Welding and Shopwork at the FFA State Convention. These skilled young men claimed first in the state for Westwood while Jim Sullivan pulled in another first in Range Management. These were just two of the many honors received by our Ag Department.

Westwood can be proud of Gary Jonas who was chosen to represent Westwood at the National Junior Achievement Conference at Indiana State University. He was chosen on ability, leadership, and performance. He attended workshops and classes and contributed this all to Westwood's J.A. Program.

Girls Lead W.H.S. in Spirit and Cheers

"Are you ready? Ready!" And they were ready . . . for fun, action, and excitement. Our seven bubbly varsity cheerleaders, with their beautiful smiles, raised spirit and inspired our teams to victory. Through this past year they contributed time, talent, and enthusiasm to Westwood assemblies, rallies, and games. Let's give 'em a cheer!

Half-time wouldn't be the same without the traditional Warriorettes. Displaying colorful outfits and perfect form, they added stylish variety to football games and various parades. They danced, marched, and drilled to music performed by the mighty Warrior Band.

The sophies ranked high this year boasting four spirited beauties as J.V. cheerleaders. These girls led cheers throughout the year at J.V. football and basketball games, encouraging spirit and adding scenery and fun to all action packed activities.

Junior Miss Winners, Honor Students Compete for Titles

Excitement, tension and hard work paid off for three coeds in the annual Junior Miss Pageant. Lynette Vance's graceful dancing and music ability won her the Talent Award along with the First Runner-up title. Westwood also had the honor of having Norene Ray named Second Runner-up and Dixie Duffy earning the physical fitness trophy. Poise, talent, and academics are what helped these girls achieve these hard-won titles.

A very select and high quality group on campus is the National Honor Society, who through special projects, helped to promote good will and happiness throughout the school and community. Service, leadership, and character were just a few of the factors on which these students were chosen. Because of their hard work and devotion, the school library was furnished with a new book case. Also, deserving members received scholarships. The Top Twenty from Westwood proved their identity by maintaining the highest grade averages through their high school years.

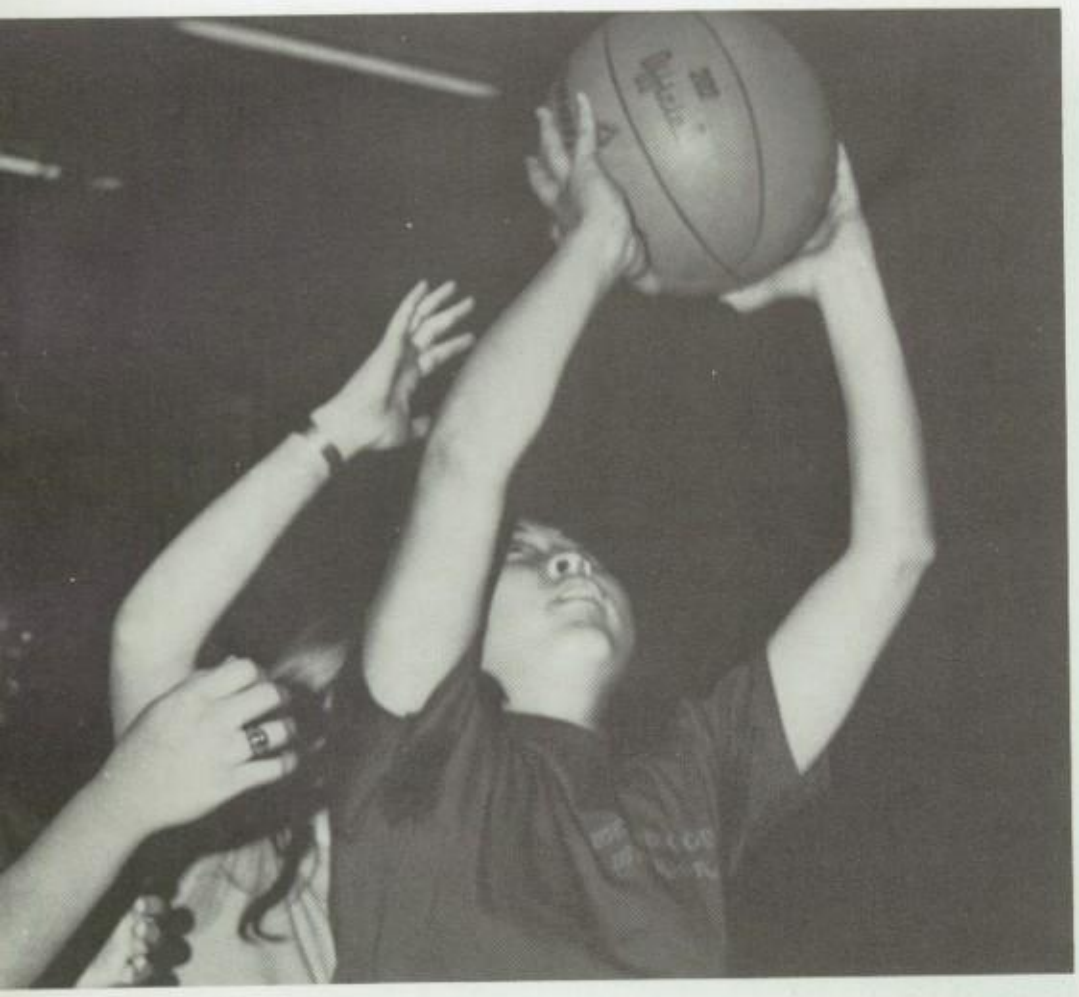
Three Girls Come to Westwood's Campus in A.F.S. Exchange



From across the nation and even half way around the world, this year's foreign exchange girls came with smiles and thrilling company that added memories to our Westwood High campus.

Charming all of Westwood with her friendly smile was the well known Kyoko Mori, from Nishinomiya, Japan. Cathy Carr and her family felt honored to host her during her stay here. Not only did Kyoko excel in academics, she proved to be outstanding in sports and became one of the school's top girl volleyball players.

Advancing their way through second semester were the foreign students from Jorge Washington School in Cartegena, Columbia, Grace Yabrudy and Susie Schuster. In exchange, Jean Hubler and Diana Clement enjoyed a fun stay in Columbia.

Westwood was delighted to help educate and entertain its foreign guests for another year.

John, I really enjoyed having you in Human Phy and I'm sure that without all your questions the class wouldn't have been the same. I hope you have all the success in life! Grace

Dedication Goes to Mrs. Harris, Cramer

Service and devotion to duty—that's what they've got. This year the persons selected to receive the yearbook dedication have put in many years helping others.

When the doors first swung open at this school back in 1962, Mrs. Anne Cramer was in her office, then in Hall Three, pioneering the health program. Through the years her conscientious, devoted dedication has been second to none. She really cares for the students, and time after time, she goes the extra mile in their behalf. Her day starts early, and ends only when her work is completed. She is a supporter of all school activities and is as loyal a Warrior as will ever grace the halls of Westwood.

Mrs. Eula Harris, too, was here when the doors of Westwood opened. In fact, she was engaged in the planning of this school. During her years as secretary to the principal she has done much to make the educational facilities run smoothly. Working in close co-operation with three principals, she has aided more teachers and students than one can realize. Each day, and sometimes nights and weekends, she too has arrived early and worked late, devoting her time to the betterment of education and to helping all.

We of the Chieftain staff are proud to dedicate this yearbook to these two women—for they have served us well—and this place is a lot better because of them.

School Board Studies Four-Day Week

Westwood's quality was kept at its highest throughout the school year by an exceptional staff of both school board and administrators. Their job of taking both school and student needs into consideration was a job well done.

Being faced with the problem of overcrowded schools, whether to switch to a four day school week, and many other pressing problems kept everyone on their toes.

New ideas materialized and were seen as more than just a thought. The School Board and Adminstrators took pride in the efforts given throughout this year's planning.

Although the computer did make several mistakes in student schedules this year, the registration department, with the help of the counselors, managed to clear the problems up and send students on their way in the first few weeks of school.

The counselors also brought back the tutoring service this year to aid students having difficulty in certain areas such as Math, English, Science and History. The instructors were fellow students who earned $1.70 an hour for their services.

Graduation and college requirements were also a concern of the counselors, which included discussing A.C.T. test results with students.

Even the attendance secretaries managed to keep smiling through all their problems with ditchers and absentees.

A Special Thanks to Special Services

With the high soaring prices of food these days, the cooks at Westwood faithfully managed to provide the students every day with a reasonably priced lunch. Also keeping a firm hand on inflation was Mr. Messali, our bookstore manager. Pencils remained at the low cost of 2 for 5 all year long. Mrs. Cramer was also a great aid to the student body's needs by performing with expert medical attention her duty as our fine school nurse.

The Library was probably the most popular source of help to all the students at Westwood. But not without the helpful guidance of our librarians could it have been such a complete success. These services and others here at Westwood put forth much time and effort making the school year of '73 and '74 a super sensational year!

Biology Teaches About the Living World While Chemistry Deals With Non-Living

Have you ever smelled the stench of slimy, oozy, overpreserved worms? If you took Biology this year you could've been involved in this and other projects concerning dissections of pigs and grasshoppers.

Also in the Biology Department, students learned the different blood types there are, how to test for them, and what type they have.

In the Chemistry Department, experiments were done throughout the year teaching students how to prepare different elements and compounds in the laboratory. Such things as oxygen, carbon dioxide, and even real lathering soap were made.

Learning the different mechanisms of flying such as altitudes and mileage, were taught in the aviation classes.

Top Left: "Mr. Chase! Come quick! You should see what's under this microscope!" shouts an excited Keith Clement. Bottom Far Left: "What are you doing Mr. West!" asks Tom Flynn while Jennifer King watches amazed. Bottom Left: "I think I see a cavity," observes Gary Hase as Chris Jones shows him a skull while in Biology. Bottom Right: "How about a date Friday night?" coaxes Tim Sears. "Let's get back to chemistry," answers Daina Haden. Top Right: "I can't wait any longer, for second lunch" exclaims hungry Linda Lassen as she grabs for a fish in the biology aquarium. Middle Left: "MMM . . . nice," says Joan Orr as she smells the beautiful flowers while visiting Mrs. Shouses' biology room.

American History students discovered America this past year, but in a totally different way than Christopher Columbus did almost 500 years ago. Not stopping with the early explorations of the Europeans, the students went further on to study many historical events dating past World War II. Besides American History, Government and Free Enterprise are also social studies classes required for graduation.

A more in depth social studies elective offered to seniors was Psychology. Also offered was Home and Family, which covered timely topics such as dating and marriage.

Anthropology, Arizona and Southwest History, World Culture History, Western Civilization, and Building of Modern World completed the list of the social studies courses offered.

New Ideas and Concepts Stressed in Math

"It is not possible to present a precise mathematical definition of limit that would be meaningful to you at this stage of your mathematical development. Without such a definition, it is impossible to establish deductivity that the perimeters or the areas of regular inscribed polygons do approach limits, even though drawings suggest that they do," states a teacher. "I don't understand!" exclaims a student. This is usually the case in math classes although there are students who do understand what is said in their math class. Math is a difficult subject for many students, but Westwood has teachers that can teach them and give a better understanding of this course. Since math is such an important part of almost every profession, if for nothing more than to figure a paycheck, it is still a requirement of graduation—of at least two years in this department.

English, Foreign Languages Offer Much

"What do you mean I can't say ain't? I've been saying it all my life!" Though this is commonly heard around Westwood's English Department, different courses have been offered to try and change students from speaking that way.

Intermediate composition is one of the more popular of the subjects because it allows students to improve their vocabulary and increases their knowledge of good writing and speaking skills.

Saying "ain't" in a foreign tongue isn't too common at this school since learning languages the right way is difficult enough without adding American slang expressions. With the excellent instruction being offered, it's no wonder that a large number of our students take advantage of the opportunity to learn Spanish, German, French and Latin.

Top Right: "Where does it say that?" questions Alan Barrett while Mrs. Middleton points to paragraph three, line six for the tenth time. Bottom Right: "No man, that's not what it means," corrects (Right) Richard Gowdy. But it seems (Left) Sylvester Rhodes has a better definition in mind. If leatherwork isn't your bag, and you have a ring for jewelry, than maybe silver jewelry is the unit you would most likely enjoy. The unique scheduling of courses in Westwood's Art Department this past year enabled the students to study any area that interested them the most. A selection of more than thirty unit choices were offered, varying from drawing and painting to weaving and woodcarving. If any one person wanted to study the unit more they could take the class on an Independent Study basis. This permitted the individual to continue working on the area by instructing themselves on a project of their own.

Another visual art course offered outside the art programs curriculum was Photography. This class involved more than just the instruction of operating a camera. Printing and developing were also subject matter, making it a snap for the pupils to process all of their own work.

Art students kept very busy this past year doing more than just drawing flowers.

Business Offers Variety of Occupations

Whether you are a future doctor, lawyer or Indian Chief, the Business Department at Westwood may be a useful resource to you.

This past year many senior students involved in the programs C.O.E., I.C.E., and D.E.C.A. found this to be very true. Other classes that taught helpful techniques to career oriented students were Clerical Core, Business Core, Graphic Arts, Shorthand, and Typing.

Typewriting, being a prerequisite to many classes, was far the most popular of all the subjects offered. Possibly the over abundance of interest aroused in typing was because of the electric typewriters supplied to the advanced classes.

Insurance Block, new to the business program this year, followed much of the same lines as the other courses. The principle goal was to enlighten students about the areas available in the field of insurance.

In the regular classes of Business Core and Clerical Core, more than one area was studied. The students had a choice of what unit to study working at their own speed.

Whatever your future plans may be, one of the business courses offered can without doubt better inform you. A business course is always beneficial, never a waste of time.

Students Find P.E. Fun but Difficult

Tennis anyone? Tennis was just one of the many exciting sports offered by the girls' p.e. department this year. Girls were also able to enloy the strenuous sports of archery, badmitten, volleyball, softball, and gymnastics. To help the girls look and become more like young ladies, modern dance and weight control were also available.

In competition areas, boys met in gymnastics, tennis, football, wrestling, baseball, basketball, track, and cross country. Weight lifting and running was also done to build up and strengthen the bodies for the in-season sports. The guys were also able to play and enjoy such sports as potatoe ball and flag football.

Students had a large selection of activities—some fun, some difficult.

Men Will Wear the Yet Refuse to Obey

Husbands cooking the meals? Wives repairing the cars Is this Women's Liberation moving in? Some people a Westwood may think so since a new auto mechanics clas was offered for girls, while the boys were still able to tak Chef's Art, and a woodworking shop class was also avai able to girls.

In the girls auto mechanics class the girls did not hav it as easy as you may think. Following the Women's Libe ation trend, they were dealt with on an equal level wit the guys. Some of the various things the girls were taugh were, how to tune cars, how to change flat tires, how t wash, polish, and clean the interior, and how to buy used car.

But the girls auto mechanics class wasn't the only thin new out in that department. A paint shop was set up t do the actual painting of cars. First, though, the dents ha to be taken out and sanded. They were then primed an sanded again, and finally the paint job.

The auto mechanics department was kept pretty bu this year with these two new additions but their wo was still that of the finest.

Music, Drama All Part of Performing Arts

Voices, music, and high spirits were just a few of the things provided by Westwood's great Performing Arts Department.

The choruses, under the direction of Mrs. White, performed to many appreciative audiences throughout the year.

The Varsity Marching Band performed in a fabulous manner at all of the home football games during half-time, under the direction of Mr. Joe Lloyd. Guiding three other bands—Apache, Concert, and Stage—Mr. Lloyd endured thick and thin.

The orchestra, headed by Bill Englesman, faithfully gave every concert as though each note was perfectly polished.

One section of Performing Arts which is usually overlooked is drama. The drama crew, coached by Mr. Jones, did a fine job this year, especially on the production of the play "Yeomen of the Guard."

1973-1974: A Very Turbulent Year

The P.O.W.'s finally arrive home from Vietnam ... Henry Kissinger revisits China, and Washington and Peking establish "liason offices" ... The high cost of eating goes up, up, up; especially meat ... The Watergate Affair dominates the newspapers and television newscasts ... The ancient Chinese art of acupuncture grows as a health fad in the U.S. ... About two hundred Sioux Indians play out their symbolic defiance behind barricades in Wounded Knee, South Dakota ... John,
Gee, I hardly know
you to say anything.
But it's been great
getting to know you
& much as I could
Maybe I'll see ya later
I get back from Maryland OK?

Being and becoming something in life is the goal in everyone's dreams. Accepting who you are and especially becoming something in life is not easy, for happiness and success are not gifts, they are achievements. My appreciation goes to the many people directly and indirectly involved in the production of this publication, especially Little Audree. Audree and I had some tough times fighting fatigue during deadlines, but we made it through with flying colors. My gratitude goes to Mr. Donovan, who not only gave an immeasureable amount of advice and cheer in hours of despair, but also helped me and others find out what potentials we have but didn't realize were there. Finally, my special thanks to Tookie.

We would like to offer our heartfelt appreciation to Mr. Bud Ford of Diamonds-Rockwell Studios for his assistance during the course of the year. Our thanks go to Mari Schaeffer for the lettering on the introduction and division pages and special gratitude goes to the trees at Pioneer Park for supporting us in our photographic assignments.

We all hope you enjoyed the publications for '73-'74

John,
It's been neat knowing
you. You made Anthropology and physiology more enlightening with your clever wit.
Good Luck in the future. You're a neat guy to have it.
your friend,
Laura W.
